SEE MY WINDOWS. THEY SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES

Suits and Overcoats Originally Marked $30.00, $32.50 and $35.00—are NOW

$12 Eighteen Dollars for Double-Breasted Ulster of dark chinchilla. A GEORGES shawl collar model. This is my own idea, originated by me last year and unsuccessfully copied by many others this season. I claim this coat to be the best value ever offered at Thirty-five Dollars, and now in the Reorganization Sale reduced to Eighteen Dollars. Extremely warm, but light in weight. Skeleton make, satin yoke. Must be seen to be appreciated.

BIG PEACE MOVE

A. F. O. L. PLAN

By PHILIP J. HALVORSEN.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 14.—The movement of peace between the two warring nations was announced and enforced by a world-wide peace conference, was urged in a report made at the American Federation of Labor convention by J. H. Brown, a member of the executive committee.

The report said that such a peace conference is called by the American Federation of Labor and that all governments be urged to participate. The recommendation was referred to a special committee for further consideration. It will come before the convention for action later.

The conference is to be held in the city of London, to be made from the peace conference. The conference is to be held in the city of London, to be made from the peace conference.

Everybody's Writing Signs Now Try it if You Want Some Fun

SOME ANSWERS

Prizes of $1 Each Await the Five Most Ingenious Sign Writers.

The Hanny editor reports today that Hanny, a dimes of attending one of the sign language, is spreading. It is a disease that is not harmful, but makes one, on the job all the time and fun, a lot of fun.

Try it! The AMERICAN extends an invitation to everybody to try his luck at sign writing. You may get a prize. You never can tell.

All this sign writing activity is being carried on by the AMERICAN, the eminent literary journal, stating that simple signs might replace early written words.

The "Hanny Editor" of the AMERICAN, CAL offered a short sentence for readers to "sign in sign." The sentence is: "I am lost and hungry. Where can I find food and shelter?"

Prizes of one dollar each will be awarded to the five most ingenious sign writers. The AMERICAN is sending in "signs" to the editor, judging by the cleverness of some of the answers, a large number of Boston and New England people were along very cleverly if they had to make their writing while in sign.

OPEN BOYDEN TOMB ON COPPS HILL FIRST TIME IN 100 YEARS.

Mrs. Frederick Boyden Wilson of Washington, D. C., granddaughter of Benjamin Boyden, first proprietor of the old-time Tremont House, which stood where the Tremont Hotel now stands, was today taken to the famous old Cops Hill burying ground in the North End. "The body was placed in the ancestral tomb of the Boyden family."

Mrs. Wilson, who was seventy-six years old, died recently in Washington, D. C. Her parents were Frederick and Elizabeth (Hoskins) Boyden and the late Benjamin Boyden were sons. She was the first child born in the old Boston house in lower Broadway, New York.

The old Cops Hill burying ground in the North End, where she was buried, was the site of the old Tremont House, which was built there, nearly 150 years ago.

Everybody's Writing Signs Now Try it if You Want Some Fun

SOME ANSWERS

Prizes of $1 Each Await the Five Most Ingenious Sign Writers.

The Hanny editor reports today that Hanny, a dimes of attending one of the sign language, is spreading. It is a disease that is not harmful, but makes one, on the job all the time and fun, a lot of fun.

Try it! The AMERICAN extends an invitation to everybody to try his luck at sign writing. You may get a prize. You never can tell.

All this sign writing activity is being carried on by the AMERICAN, the eminent literary journal, stating that simple signs might replace early written words.

The "Hanny Editor" of the AMERICAN, CAL offered a short sentence for readers to "sign in sign." The sentence is: "I am lost and hungry. Where can I find food and shelter?"

Prizes of one dollar each will be awarded to the five most ingenious sign writers. The AMERICAN is sending in "signs" to the editor, judging by the cleverness of some of the answers, a large number of Boston and New England people were along very cleverly if they had to make their writing while in sign.

OPEN BOYDEN TOMB ON COPPS HILL FIRST TIME IN 100 YEARS.

Mrs. Frederick Boyden Wilson of Washington, D. C., granddaughter of Benjamin Boyden, first proprietor of the old-time Tremont House, which stood where the Tremont Hotel now stands, was today taken to the famous old Cops Hill burying ground in the North End. "The body was placed in the ancestral tomb of the Boyden family."

Mrs. Wilson, who was seventy-six years old, died recently in Washington, D. C. Her parents were Frederick and Elizabeth (Hoskins) Boyden and the late Benjamin Boyden were sons. She was the first child born in the old Boston house in lower Broadway, New York.

The old Cops Hill burying ground in the North End, where she was buried, was the site of the old Tremont House, which was built there, nearly 150 years ago.

TUFTS FRESHIES KIDNAP A SOPH

On the eve of the annual Tufts Sophomore banquet at the Hotel Thorndike the Freshies, once again a "couple" and tried to kidnap the sophomore treasurer and many of the would-be banqueters.

Before the sophomore could organize, the Freshies succeeded in capturing several men. But after a few minutes of fighting, the freshmen were driven off the "hill."

Lord E. Aldrich, former class president, while being taken to the freshman automobile, broke loose and started for the Tufts College railroad station. A Freshie train was just pulling out and Aldrich caught the engine with his fingers just a moment too late. After a ride of about 20 miles, he jumped off and hurried 15 cents from a farmer to pay his carfare to Boston, arriving at the banquet just as it began.

Henry W. Burritt of Detroit, Mich., the treasurer, was captured after a struggle and carried away in an automobile by the victorious Freshies. Burritt was taken to a private house and left with a bone guard. When the guard went to answer the doorbell Burritt slipped his bonds and escaped to the Hotel Thorndike, where the banquet was held.

'Revelry by Night' as Harvard 'Dorms' Hold Beer-Night

Just to celebrate their victory over the anti-beer-sellers, and to cement a closer intimacy among the seniors of the various dormitories, the Harvard seniors, led by W. J. Bliss, have invited the seniors of Matthews and Hollis Halls to a community beer-night.

This is the second of a series of inter-dormitory events of this nature which is to be held in one of the biggest private houses in Cambridge, are grilling their teeth at the "wounds of revelry by night."

$80,000,000 BOY WED TO MUSIC

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—When William Ziegler, Jr., the "thirty-million-dollar boy," because of age on July 20 last and asked the net income of the vast fortune left him by his adopted father, the Baking Powder King and baron of expeditions into the Arctic, he was confronted with a dilemma.

The young man was at that time a special student at Harvard. He was specializing in music and in classical poetry, two branches of learning to which he is passionately devoted. His every reading urged him to continue at Harvard and to delegate to others the management of his income.

As the result of that conflict there now appears on the beveled glass door at the entrance of a modest suite of rooms on the seventh floor of the Harriman National Bank building at No. 527 Fifth avenue this plaid lettered sign:

WILLIAM ZIEGLER, JR.

If one enters an inner room of the suite any business day one may observe a broad-shouldered, bespectacled young man snuggly dictating to a stenographer.

It is William Ziegler, Jr., poet, musician and business man.

But young Ziegler has made it plain to his intimates that he does not intend to forsake the study of the pleasing arts. He has heretofore in the name of duty to the extent of giving up most of the day-time hours to the active management of his fortune. But in the evenings and at odd moments he has determined to keep to his study of music and literature.

All the publicity centered by young Ziegler as "the thirty-million-dollar boy" since his recent engagement to Miss Gladys Virginia Wilcox has caused the young man to be called an millionaire. In the first place his fortune is approximately only one-half that amount, and the gross income of the estate is only a little over $1,000,000 a year. The net income, which is all that young Ziegler will have until he is twenty-five, is greatly reduced by fixed charges.

The will of the baking powder millionaire was drawn a short time before his death in 1905 by Maynard-class Supreme Court Justice—Gaynor, who, under 10 years, became one of the executors and trustees. The beneficiaries of this arrangement are Mayor Gaynor, William B. Camp, who was Ziegler's secretary, and Mrs. Minnie Ziegler, the widow.

Up to and including the last annual accounting, the executors and trustees and their attorneys had received in fees from administration of the estate a total of $1,028,840.42, while young Ziegler was allowed by the court for his maintenance and education during six and one-half years a total of $153,000.

T. J. COOLIDGE GIVES HARVARD LABORATORY

Harvard will soon have a new $50,000 chemical laboratory for quantitative analysis. The building is the gift of T. Jefferson Coolidge, and will be a memorial to his son, T. Jefferson Coolidge, Jr., who died last April.

The laboratory will be called "T. Jefferson Coolidge, Jr. Memorial Laboratory." It will be the second of a group of buildings planned by the memorial donations of the university to be put up on Divinity Avenue, Cambridge.

THURSDAY, NOV. 14

A Six

EXCLUSIVELY as a Six, the Alco for 1913 is offered. Six years of six cylinder experience lie behind it. The horse power is 60; the wheel base 133 1/2 inches; the clutch non oiling, and the rear axle is one piece—forged out of a solid billet of steel.

One chassis only is built and the very latest developments in coach building are brought out in four luxurious types of bodies; Seven Passenger Touring, Five Passenger Touring, Colonial Limousine and Berline Limousine.

Demonstrations daily on any road or hill.
New catalog, illustrated by Popini, now ready for distribution.

AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVE COMPANY, 567 Boylston Street, BOSTON.
Repairs also of Alco Motor Trucks and Alco Tractors

Little conveniences distinguish the new Alco. It has a miniature searchlight on the cowl, a step light, wide entrances, very wide seats, high backs, and electric illumination throughout. The white band, which symbolizes superiority, graces the car again this year.

Though the 1913 Alco is only to-day announced, a large portion of the year's output has already been sold. Deliveries are now being made. To assure a 1913 Alco an early reservation is suggested.

Serious Costly Sickness

Is far too sure to come when your bodily strength has been undermined by the poison of bile. Medicines, your stomach, unpleasant breath, nervousness, and a weak to do nothing are all signs of biliousness—gripe, too, that your system needs help. Just the right help is given and the bodily condition which invites serious sickness.

Is Prevented By

timely use of Beecham's Pills. This famous vegetable, and always efficient, family remedy will clear your system, regulate your bowels, stimulate your liver, tone your nerves. Your system will be so improved, your food will nourish you and you will be strong to 100 and to resist. You will feel greater vigor and vitality, as well as buoyant spirits—after you know and use

SHEPARD STORE SERVICE

COLUMBIA GRAFONOLAS AND RECORDS

Whether you wish to purchase a new machine or a set of records, or a combination of the two, we have the best selection of the quality of our service. A complete line of machines and records.

Shepard Norwell Co., Boston, Mass.

WE present this instrument in this prominence because of its tone-quality.

Pass over for a while its independent and self-contained completeness—unapproachable under $75; judge it by its tone.

Have us place your favorite selection on the "Regal" and let you hear it. There's a tone test for you—and a treat, too.

Judge it by its tone—and then satisfy yourself that the "Regal" is a perfect musical instrument and a perfect piece of furniture as well; that its joiner-work is honest and its finish right; then compare the instrument with your forty dollars and see which will give more pleasure, to more people for the longer time. Here is an instrument that holds at your command all the music of the great orchestras and bands, all the songs that live the stages of all the theatres, and the voices of all the world's great opera artists who have ever made disc records—without one exception.

If you cannot call, let us send the "Regal" with an outfit of records to your home on three days' free trial. After three days, if you think the price we ask for it too much, return it.

Took Forty-One Days to Whip the Turks

Oct. 3.—Turks fire on Greek steamers in the Bosphorus Sea.
Oct. 8.—Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro formally declare war.
Oct. 10.—Montenegrins capture Podgorica.
Oct. 23.—Kirk Kilelesh falls.
Oct. 25.—Uskub captured by the allies.

Oct. 29.—Siege of Adrianople, still in progress, opened.
Oct. 30.—Salonica surrendered to the Greeks.
Nov. 9.—Tchatalja besieged and Turks give way.
Nov. 13.—Turks give up; ready to make peace terms.

that Turkey is ready to abandon Tchatalja provided the allies will undertake not to enter the capital.
The Porte is prepared to make heavy sacrifices to avert this crowning humiliation, and if King Ferdinand is not too exigent peace is in sight.

SAYS ARMISTICE IS ARRANGED.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The News and Leader, following from its special correspondents, Charles Towney at Constantinople and The Director of Transport Intelligence at the War Office, state that a cessation of hostilities has been already arranged. The chief conditions for any armistice, including military foodstuffs, forage, etc., and its terms, it is stated, would be made at once.

The announcement of Turkish officials means today the end of the Balkan war. While military action may occur in the future, it will be but the dying echo of the war which practically broke the reign of the Turk in Europe and caused his influence to be confined practically to Asia Minor.

It is now known that Mustafa, the Turkish minister of posts and telegraphs, who was reported yesterday to be on his way to Paris, is on his way to Sofia to meet the Greek minister.

The Balkan Porte is ready to be prepared to make humiliating sacrifices in order to check the Bulgarian advance into Constantinople. One of the chief reasons of the Turkish advance from the Tchatalja line, leaving the city exposed to the allies.

ACTUAL PEACE LIKELY TO BE NEGOTIATED IN NEXT WEEK OR TWO

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Official confirmation that the Turkish government, through Grand Vizier Kiamil Pasha, has addressed representations to the Great Powers of the Balkans for an armistice pending peace negotiations is received here today from Constantinople.

It is stated that the Turkish government has received the following reply from the Great Powers: "The Great Powers have received your communication and are in communication with the other belligerents with a view to the conclusion of an armistice."

Mustafa, who came from Bulgaria, has been reported to have been in the city of Constantinople, and to have been in the city of Constantinople, and to have been in the city of Constantinople.

ODD RULING IN HALPIN'S CASE

The recent country ruled out to American athletes in England is well illustrated in the preliminary testimony forwarded by the New England Journal of the A. A. U. to Secretary James E. Sullivan in the case of F. J. Halpin of Boston, who was expelled from the American Amateur Athletic Association, but who is in good standing in this country after a thorough investigation.

The charge against the quarrelsome champion first baseman, known in this country through an article in the sporting tradition, a Manchester publication. This stated that Halpin had been suspended for selling $15 to attend the games of the Manchester Marblers.

Simplicity of the English.

The New England compilation of the A. A. U. took the matter up, and Halpin turned over the following letter to the board of the A. A. U. in a letter that he knew was fought against him.

London, England, June 1, 1914.

Dear Sirs:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 27th inst. regarding my suspension from the A. A. U. I am sorry to hear that you have taken this action against me, but I am sure that you will find me to be a most reliable and trustworthy athlete. I have been a member of the A. A. U. for many years and have always been a most reliable and trustworthy athlete. I have been a member of the A. A. U. for many years and have always been a most reliable and trustworthy athlete. I have been a member of the A. A. U. for many years and have always been a most reliable and trustworthy athlete.

Jake Stahl to Train Illinois for Maroons

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 14.—Illinois, candidate for the Maroon game is strong by a result of Saturday's battle at LaSalle and Chicago's narrow victory over Northwestern. A general air of cheerfulness pervades the Illinois camp and players and coaches declare that the Orange and Blue athletes will win Saturday.

Jake Stahl leader of the world's famous football team, the Maroons, and one of the greatest players ever turned out at Illinois, will head the work here and try to lead the team for the Maroons. Other veterans of the Orange and Blue campaign, Fred Leland, an all-weather back, will join the coaches on Illinois soil. Already intense and the coaches will have no trouble in getting the Illinois high school players.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

THE kicking play being worked out at Hanover is tried successfully at the stadium Saturday, the best punting and drop and placement kicking of the year will be seen. None of Harvard's competitors has shown much skill in football this season, and the Crimson has won its games decisively because its kicking surpassed that of its rivals. None of them has given Wendell's men much difficulty with booted balls.

DEWITT and Pendleton came here with reputations as booters. They paid miserably at the stadium, although they have not had an eye for the line elsewhere. The explanation made at Princeton is that the "tiger" has no experience with the cross-currents of air that wander aimlessly, and with starting lack of accountable direction within the huge bowl. This sounds reasonable. Doubtless the unusual air currents do bother kickers who fail to take them into consideration.

WELTON, who is doing more consistent punting than any other man on the gridiron this year, gets the ball so high in the air that it is not seriously affected by the lower currents. Moreover, the platoon is reached by the regular wind currents that sweep over the top of the bowl, which was an important factor in the Princeton game, when the ball was blowing with great velocity.

in Saturday Clash

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 14.—It is a fairly strong word to use in the world on the outcome of the Yale-Princeton match and today backers of the Harvard side of 5 to 4 Princeton cash has odds, but the odds also offered by Yale made the playing of the wagers very

The coaches were dead set on this morning about the probability of giving the team some crumming this afternoon. Several have said the eleven should be ready to play the afternoon game.

Bradley is well liked by his fellow players and they are all eager to work hard in order to please him and also to please their Alma Mater.

Ward, the boxer, has also played a very creditable game in his last. Ward is a well built, very strong fellow on his feet, a quick thinker and game.

Ward is a very strong man who is also strong in hitting. He is one of the most valuable men on the team when it comes to all round efficiency.

Cambridge Latin has some other "crack" players and they hope to add a few more victories to their string before the season comes to a close.

Children Look Out of the Window—Asking Questions

Children ARE GROWING. The Man Who Ceases to Look and to Ask, CEASES TO GROW

Copyright, 1912, by American-Journal Association

You see a woman enter the car. In her arms she carries a small baby. There is nothing in life to do as yet but to wriggle its arms and legs. So she puts it on its back on her knees that it may wriggle comfortably.

She also has a child, a boy or girl from three to ten years of age. As soon as the baby has been straightened out properly, its dress fixed so that its legs can kick freely, its head and neck made comfortable. THE OLDER CHILD IS SETTLED SO THAT IT CAN LOOK OUT OF THE WINDOW.

You would think it strange if you saw a boy or girl of seven or eight sit quietly in a street car, keeping its eyes inside of the car. You expect such a child to turn around, kneel on the seat and look out. And you expect the long, constant series of questions, as the young, eager face is turned toward the mother. Everything is interesting, everything arouses thought, everything must be explained.

Compare yourself, the average grown man and woman, with that child looking out of the window. We grown-up people keep our eyes inside the car. We are tired, bored, the world looks old to us, things that are happening do not interest us.

AND THAT MEANS THAT WE HAVE CEASED TO GROW.

Would we suggest that grown men and women should kneel on the seats and look out of the window? No. But we do say that it is bad for the man or woman who ceases to see eagerly and constantly the eyes and the imagination through which alone THE BRAIN CAN GROW.

What the moving street car is to the child, with all its excitement and wonders, THIS MOVING EARTH SHOULD BE TO THE GROWN MAN OR WOMAN.

Every night of our lives we move through mysterious space, but we have the opportunity to look out at the wonders of the universe around us. We have the opportunity to ask questions, and to have them answered by the books on astronomy and the other sciences.

How many of us look out; how many of us ask questions of books or of learned men? NOT ONE IN TEN THOUSAND AFTER THIRTY YEARS OF AGE; PERHAPS ONE IN A THOUSAND BETWEEN TWENTY-FIVE AND THIRTY; ONE IN A HUNDRED BETWEEN TWENTY AND TWENTY-FIVE.

One of the best sayings we have ever read is this: "Every child is a genius, and every genius is a child." That is literally true. Genius, above all things, means the power to see things AS THEY ARE.

The genius in the grown man means, of course, creative power, hard work, concentration; but it means above all THE OPEN MIND, THE POWER TO RECEIVE IMPRESSIONS.

The man who ceases to look out, to inquire, to ask, to imagine, is like one who has lost his sight. He has not lost the physical sight of the eyes, but the spiritual sight of the brain, which is infinitely more precious.

This writer once listened to a famous inhabitant of Chicago, making his first trip up the Rhine. He sat on a small chair, looking INWARD, with never a glance at the old towers, the hills and the vineyards. And as he looked inward he talked with a friend about a slaughter house that he had seen in Paris, candidly proving that it was very inferior even to a second rate slaughter house in Chicago—not really big enough for a decent refrigerating plant. And that apparently intellectual conversation lasted him until he was off the boat, ready to eat the next meal at the next hotel.

There was nothing exceptional about this man—others like him are in New York, Paris, London, everywhere in the world. HE HAD SIMPLY LOST THE FACULTY OF THE DESIRE TO LOOK OUT OF THE WINDOW. It is easy to understand that real growth for him had ceased. Very likely he might, with time, become a very much abler and more energetic slaughter house proprietor. He might become more and more a USEFUL MAN, since it is useful to give work to other men.

He might in fact become a thoroughly admirable citizen by distributing good meat and providing for human hunger. But, as a human mind, a human soul, he was a blind man, his growth had stopped.

A good many of us wonder what is the matter with us, why we do not grow. The answer nine times out of ten would be, WE HAVE STOPPED SEEING. We have stopped feeding our minds; we have stopped "looking out of the window." We have gathered together our little supply of information and our little supply of impressions. We have our little foolish stories that we tell over and over. We have arranged our system of dressing ourselves; we have decided what we like for breakfast and for dinner. We have read a few books and we talk about those, AND WE READ VERY FEW NEW ONES. We go occasionally to some foolish play, and think we have a sense of humor if we laugh, or believe ourselves sensitive and sympathetic if we weep.

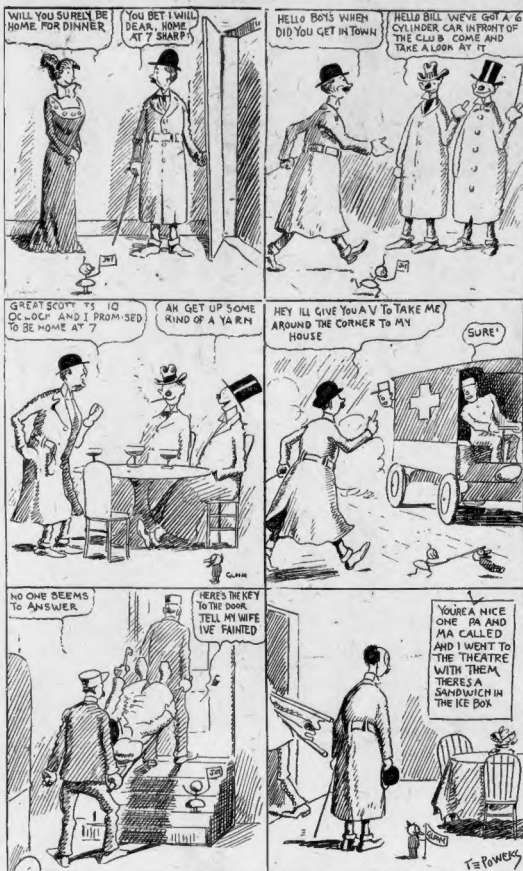

BUT WE ARE NOT GROWING. THAT CHILDISH EAGERNESS FOR KNOWLEDGE, WHICH MARKS THE LITTLE BOY AND THE GREAT GENIUS, NEARLY ALL MEN LOSE EARLY. And after that they become valuable dummies, little wheels in the great machine, useful buyers, or sellers, or workers.

But they are not really MEN any longer. Lucky for the human race that death was invented; lucky that Death, with its scythes, comes along and cuts us off by the millions, making room FOR THE CHILDREN THAT WILL LOOK OUT OF THE WINDOWS; MAKING ROOM FOR THE FRESHER MINDS THAT WILL RECEIVE AND USE NEW THOUGHTS AND NEW IMPRESSIONS.

The man with his eyes in the car, the man who does not even see the story, the tragedy, the inspiration, the brotherhood in the air on the opposite seat, might as well be back in the ground. For there is more earth than man about him.

It is a very good little suggestion, in my opinion, that has come to me from Miss James Hunsford of North Hampton, N. H. It is not quite so necessary, perhaps, in large cities, but it states an favorable idea for the woman in a small town who wishes to earn money at home.

"I am deeply interested," she says, "in your articles and the suggestions for money-making at home contained in your department. But allow me to suggest that the usefulness thereof would be greatly enhanced if you would establish some sort of bureau of clearing house, where the housewives could exhibit and dispose of their wares and get orders for work. I am sure that many women refrain from earning extra money at home from fear of what the neighbors would think," or from disinclination to take money from neighbors and friends. This may be true, but it is a condition, not a theory, which confronts us.

It is, for many reasons, not practical that the department should undertake work of the sort she suggests. But here is a thought for the woman who can herself do no special work, but who has a commodious in her home for such a bureau. Why should not a woman in a country townhouse open a woman's exchange for the smaller places around, charged a small commission for selling? The idea is perfectly feasible, and the work is attractive and fairly remunerative. I know of one girl who always opens such an exchange in November for the Christmas trade, and she tells me that if her mother were permitted she could make a good profit by keeping it open the year round. She also exhibited articles, babies' clothes, empty crocked delicacies, fancy novelties, etc., and asked orders, supplying under the sun.

Many girls are a thing never to be encouraged—the woman who is going to succeed in the business of everything she does—but it is true that many women cannot find work because of the lack of a market; and anyone who would open such a bureau, would be helping them.

I hope this will help someone who is willing to help her husband to keep the home at a safe distance from the door. MRS. A. A. ROBERTS, No. 214 West Brighton street, Westchester, Mass.

One dollar will be paid for every letter contributed by Boston AMERICAN readers, and sent to the JOURNAL, containing ideas helpful to those who wish to EARN MONEY AT HOME. This department is organized to help women help themselves. Please write on one side of the paper only and address MABEL, BARCLAY URY, Boston AMERICAN.

THE CITY

By Percy Shaw

I USED to love the simple town; The singing bird on apple bough; The chattering whose murmur dimly Challenged the farmer to the plough. Now, in expensive fact, With tumult streaming through my brain, Strange echoes pounding in my heart, To hear an elevated train.

Or, sadder still, deep in a dream I wander through a "blasted plain" Where things are really what they seem And I the happiest of men; I never want to go to bed, I marvel at my lack of will And yet I know, it should be I To live the old-time scenes I would Come knocking back here by-and-by, I did it once—so what the good?

I used to mander here and there Where harvest stacks were garnered high, And sunset clouds like mermaid's hair In tresses swept the dozing sky. But now with furtive glance I dash, Twixt van and auto truck and car, One hand on hat and one on cash, Assailed by all the sounds there are.

My life goes hanging by a thread; I cannot laugh, food makes me ill; I never want to go to bed, I marvel at my lack of will And yet I know, it should be I To live the old-time scenes I would Come knocking back here by-and-by, I did it once—so what the good?

LETTERS FROM AMERICAN READERS

A MOTHER PRAISES EDITORIAL ON THE YERKS

Dear Sir—Pardon my intrusion upon your editorial sanctity, but I cannot refrain from voicing my enthusiastic appreciation of your position in the AMERICAN of November 11, against the downfall of the YERKS.

You are right, sir, eternally right! When you say "a mother can give her sons only the qualities that she possesses," you echo the "Babe of Concord," I believe. "Men are what their mothers make them." And when you attribute the baseness of the "unrepentant Turk" to the ignorance and slavery in which he has been bred, the mothers of his children, you are not only correct for the "yellow press" but you are also correct upon a fundamental principle of progress. It is in only the plain mother and her two sons and two daughters, but I have not time to say more than that the YERKS family relation, and that it cannot exist among equals. In fact I have long held that the reason why our country rose so quickly to the forefront among the older nations of the world was because of the support and consideration shown our pioneer women by their husbands during their hard struggle for existence. All honor and success to you in your crusade to lift the shackles from the so long fettered skirts of women. Very truly, LAURA M. WESTFALL, Winsted, Nov. 12.

A NEW FOR THE COUNCIL

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN.

Dear Sir—Your editorial in Tuesday's AMERICAN that "A Representative of the Jewish People" should be in the Boston City Council, I believe, is the influence of every fair-minded man, (the Council) should have representation in our city affairs. The very people have not taken so much interest in politics as they should. There are many able men in this city that would do the AMERICAN a great deal of good, if they were.

ALDEN COBB, Boston.
